The Verification Framework is designed to ensure a consistent, systematic approach to assessing and verifying how the CHS is applied. It sets out indicators for the requirements (Key Actions and Organisational Responsibilities) under each CHS Commitment and Quality Criterion and contains guiding questions to inform each of those indicators. The indicators in the Verification Framework are taken directly from the requirements of the Nine CHS Commitments, meaning the 36 Key Actions and the 26 Organisational Responsibilities in the CHS have been turned into 62 indicators. Note that the guiding questions elaborate on the guiding questions found in the CHS Guidance Notes and Indicators. They are not exhaustive or prescriptive but a guide to where information and evidence might be found that supports application of the CHS requirements.
1. Communities and people affected by crisis receive assistance appropriate and relevant to their needs.
Quality Criterion: Humanitarian response is appropriate and relevant.

| 1.1 Conduct a systematic, objective and ongoing analysis of the context and stakeholders. | Indicator: The context and stakeholders are systematically, objectively and continuously analysed.
Guiding questions:
- How do you map stakeholders and use this to inform your response?
- What sources of information are used to assess needs, risks, capacities, vulnerabilities and context (this may include affected people and communities, local institutions and other stakeholders)?
- Do you have plans or processes for regular context analysis in place, are these known to the staff and used in monitoring processes? |
| 1.2 Design and implement appropriate programmes based on an impartial assessment of needs and risks, and an understanding of the vulnerabilities and capacities of different groups. | Indicator: Programmes are appropriately designed and implemented based on an impartial assessment of needs and risks and an understanding of the vulnerabilities and capacities of different groups.
Guiding questions:
- How do you conduct needs assessments and use them to inform response planning?
- How do you collect disaggregated data?
- How are vulnerable groups identified?
- How do you adapt types of assistance and/or protection to different demographic groups?
- How do you match programme budgets and resources with needs?
PSEAH requirement to fulfil this indicator: Programmes need to be designed and implemented based on an assessment of SEAH risks and understanding of SEAH vulnerabilities of different groups.
PSEAH Guiding questions:
- How are the vulnerabilities to SEAH of different groups identified and analysed?
- How are risks related to SEAH identified and analysed?
- How are programme designs and implementation assessed and adapted to mitigate SEAH risks and ensure SEAH risks are not created or exacerbated? |
| 1.3 Adapt programmes to changing needs, capacities and context. | Indicator: Programmes are adapted to changing needs, capacities and context.
Guiding questions:
- How do you adapt programmes based on changing needs, capacities, risks and context? (see 2.5 & 2.7)
- How are social and contextual factors that contribute to vulnerability, such as discrimination and marginalisation assessed and used? (see 3.1a, 3.1b & 3.3) |
| 1.4 Policies commit to providing impartial assistance based on the needs and capacities of communities and people affected by crisis. | Indicator: Policies commit to impartial assistance based on the needs and capacities of communities and people affected by crisis.
Guiding questions:
- In which of your organisation's documents is this requirement covered?
- Are all elements of this requirement covered?
- Are you aware and familiar with the policies and guidelines that cover this requirement? Is their content part of the organisational culture? |

- Is risk to affected people and staff regularly assessed and addressed?
- How are affected people consulted about safety and access to assistance?
- How are plans adapted as a result of the analysis?
  PSEAH requirement to fulfil this indicator: Programmes need to take into account organisational and contextual constraints so that the proposed action is safe in relation to PSEAH for communities.
  PSEAH Guiding questions:
  - How are organisational and contextual constraints relating to PSEAH identified and analysed?
  - How are programme designs adapted to safeguard affected people from SEAH? |
| 2.2 Deliver humanitarian response in a timely manner, making decisions and acting without unnecessary delay. | Decisions affecting programming are taken and acted upon without unnecessary delay so that the humanitarian response is delivered in a timely manner.
- What early warning systems & contingency plans are used for preparedness?
- How do you account for and address factors that may cause delays such as weather, access or conflict?
- How do you monitor and address delays during implementation?
- How are resources adjusted to respond to changes identified in the operational context? |
| 2.3 Refer any unmet needs to those organisations with the relevant technical expertise and mandate, or advocate for those needs to be addressed. | Unmet needs are referred to an organisation with relevant technical expertise and mandate or there is advocacy to address these needs.
- How are unmet needs identified, documented and addressed?
- Are relevant organisations mapped and unmet needs referred to them? (see 1.1) |
| 2.4 Use relevant technical standards and good practice employed across the humanitarian sector to plan and assess programmes. | Programmes are planned and assessed using relevant technical standards and good practice employed across the humanitarian sector.
- How do staff identify and use relevant technical standards and good practice?
- How are digressions from international standards justified? |

Guiding questions:
- How do you identify and consult with local leaders to ensure strategies are in line with local and/or national priorities? (see 1.1)
- How do programmes work with and through local community authorities? (see 1.1, 6.2 and 6.4)
- Do programmes use qualified local and national staff rather than expatriate staff? If not, is it clear why?
- How do you transfer competencies and skills to local partners?
- How are disadvantaged and marginalised groups supported to become local leaders or be represented in local leadership and organisations?

3.4 Plan a transition or exit strategy in the early stages of the humanitarian programme that ensures longer-term positive effects and reduces the risk of dependency.

Indicator:
A transition or exit strategy is planned in the early stages of the humanitarian programme to ensure longer-term positive effects and reduce the risk of dependency.

Guiding questions:
- How do you ensure transition and/or exit strategy is developed in consultation with affected people and other relevant stakeholders?
- Is the strategy known to relevant staff and stakeholders? (see 4.1)
- How does it assess and respond to the risk of dependency? (see 3.5a)

3.5 Design and implement programmes that promote early disaster recovery and benefit the local economy.

Indicators:
Programmes are designed and implement-tested in order to promote early recovery and to benefit the local economy (see 3.6).

Guiding questions:
- How do programmes consider and facilitate early recovery?
- How is the potential effect of the programme on the local economy at different stages of the programme assessed and taken into account?
- How is local procurement encouraged?

3.6 Identify and act upon potential or actual unintended negative effects in a timely and systematic manner, including in the areas of:
- people’s safety, security, dignity and rights;
- sexual exploitation and abuse by staff;
- culture, gender, and social and political relationships;
- livelihoods;
- the local economy; and
- the environment.

Indicator:
Programmes identify and act upon potential or actual unintended negative effects in a timely and systematic manner, including in the areas of a) people’s safety, security, dignity and rights, b) sexual exploitation and abuse by staff, c) culture, gender, social and political relationships, d) livelihoods, e) the local economy, and the environment.

Guiding questions:
- How do you detect, assess, mitigate and monitor unintended negative effects in these areas?
- How do you identify whether programme activities exacerbate existing divisions within or between communities and affect the position of armed groups or other actors?
- How do you understand the means by which people try to protect themselves, their families and communities? (see 1.1 and 1.2)
- If unintended negative effects are identified in these areas, how are these addressed and responded to in a timely fashion?

PSEAH requirement to fulfil this indicator:
Programmes need to identify and act upon potential or actual unintended negative effects relating to SEAH.

PSEAH Guiding questions:
- Do project assessments, context and stakeholder analyses include potential risks of SEAH?
- How do you continually monitor and identify potential or actual unintended negative effects of SEAH?
- If negative effects relating to SEAH are identified, how are they acted upon in a timely and systematic manner? i.e.
  - How do you adapt the programme design?
  - How do you provide assistance to SEAH survivor/victims?
  - How do you respond where a staff member is the perpetrator?

3.7 Policies, strategies and guidance are designed to:
- prevent

Indicator:
Policies, strategies and guidance are designed to a) prevent programmes having any negative effects such as for example, exploitation, abuse or discrimination by staff against communities & people affected by crisis and b) to strengthen local capacities.
programmes having any negative effects, such as, for example, exploitation, abuse or discrimination by staff against communities and people affected by crisis; and

PSEAH requirement to fulfil this indicator:
The organisation needs to have systems in place to safeguard personal information relating to SEAH incidents that could put affected people at risk.

PSEAH Guiding questions:
• Do you have a policy and guidance to ensure the safeguarding of sensitive personal information related to SEAH incidents?
• What systems do you have to ensure the security of sensitive personal information related to SEAH incidents?
• What systems do you have to ensure delegated oversight and confidentiality requirements for staff managing SEAH incidents?
• Do you have a policy or guidance which relates to gathering personal information for the purpose of communications materials, research etc, which covers:
  o informed consent for use of images and information gathered
  o guidance on including sensitive information such as if an individual is a survivor of GBV or SEAH.
