

WHAT TO EXPECT

IMPROVED DELIVERY AGAINST THE CHS COMMITMENTS

Commitment from, and support to, our members

CHS verification data shows more organisations have made improvements against the CHS

Enhanced support for organisations to verify their efforts

Scaled-up support to deliver on the CHS, through provision of tools, learning and training opportunities, good practice examples and referral to expert and peer support

Engaging with, and learning from, local leadership

Increased number of national NGOs verifying against the CHS, and championing the Standard

More members supporting in-country partners to apply and deliver on the CHS Commitments

Working with, and influencing, people able to bring about system change

Effective collaborative partnerships with other organisations, which drive research, guidance and advocacy to improve delivery of the CHS

Partnerships with Inter Agency Standing Committee members and with Humanitarian Country Teams result in an ability to measure collective country-level performance against the CHS

MORE ORGANISATIONS JOIN THE CHS ALLIANCE MOVEMENT

Commitment from, and support to, our members

More organisations join the CHS Alliance

More organisations meet their membership requirements, including embarking on their CHS verification journey

More people connect through CHS Exchanges, forums, training opportunities and communities of practice

Engaging with, and learning from, local leadership

Increased representation and engagement of national organisations in the Alliance

Learning and perspectives from national actors influences and improves the work of the CHS Alliance

Working with, and influencing, people able to bring about system change

Increased engagement with UN, Red Cross/Red Crescent Movement, governments and donors to encourage them to join the Alliance and commit to the CHS

A MORE ACCOUNTABLE AID SYSTEM

Commitment from, and support to, our members

CHS Alliance members advocate strongly for the CHS, promoting accountability to people affected by crises throughout the aid system

CHS Alliance members contribute to a more transparent aid system, including engagement with the Misconduct Disclosure Scheme and efforts to harmonise reporting of sexual exploitation and abuse

Engaging with, and learning from, local leadership

Reduced duplication of due diligence processes by national NGOs, by using CHS verification as a basis for core commitments

Country-level research identifies ways to improve country-level accountability systems

Working with, and influencing, people able to bring about system change

The CHS is revised based on learning from organisations and local perspectives, and has strong endorsement from across the aid system

Greater transparency and evidence shows progress against the CHS Commitments through a new verification platform and publication of the Humanitarian Accountability Report

An increased number of donor and partnership agreements include the CHS, so all partners hold themselves accountable to an agreed core standard focused on the people they serve
